The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,714

As will be noted by a clipping from the Vermont Union Signal congratulations are in order for "Governor" Pape of Barre.

Young Rockefeller's stomach is now rebelling against so many "undigested securities." But the young fellow ought to be happy yet; he hasn't got to wrestle with his father's problem, that of preserving his hair.

If the new pastor of the Congregational church in Northfield preaches with the same determination with which he walks, then we congratulate the church on securing him. To walk 38 miles to fill an engagement in the pulpit and to preach after having had no sleep for 45 hours is an effort few men would undertake. Yet Northfield's "Walking Parson" did it.

One enthusiastic man wants to confer upon Roosevelt the title of Supreme Arbitrator and Peace Plenipotentiary of the World. Another proposes that he be called Theodorus Pacificator Maximus. A third suggests that a statue of heroic size be erected to the "great Peace-maker" at The Hague. Plain common-sense people, however, continue to call him Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States.

Although he was not a resident of this city, George Howland, whose death occurred at his home in East Montpelier earlier in the week, was greatly interested in Barre and everything which pertained to Barre's growth and progress. As president of the National Bank of Barre and vice president of the Barre Savings Bank and Trust company, his financial interests were quite largely centered here, so that in actuality he was one of our substantial business men. As such and also as a citizen he commanded universal respect.

"A TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM."

By the munificence of Senator Redfield Proctor the state of Vermont will be provided with a means for fighting consumption and will, therefore, take its place in line with those other states which have undertaken the work of combating the "white plague." The great liberality of the gift makes possible a larger work than was anticipated by those who have been directly interested in the matter. For three years the State Tuberculosis Commission has been working for the sanitarium, believing that an intelligent fight against the spread of the disease required the erection of an institution where incipient cases might be treated. Just before the last session of the legislature the commission had a plan to ask the state to appropriate a sum of money for a sanitarium. But as it early in the season became evident that the session was to be a great game of grab the commission wisely decided to postpone the request to a more favorable opportunity, or until some individual, or individuals, should make endowment for the erection and maintenance of an institution of that nature.

That there has long been the need of a place for treatment of consumption has been recognized and now that the institution is assured the education of the people to the best means for preventing the disease will be greatly expedited.

THAT ALLIANCE.

Treaty Between Japan and England a Brief Affair.

London, Sept. 27.—The text of the new agreement between Great Britain and Japan, which was signed by Lord Lansdowne, the British foreign secretary, and Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain, on August 12, was issued by the foreign office late Monday evening. The momentous document is a brief one, comprising less than 800 words, including eight articles and a preamble.

Accompanying the agreement is a letter from Lord Lansdowne to the British ambassadors at St. Petersburg and Paris for transmission to the Russian and French governments respectively, in which the foreign secretary courteously redeems the agreement and fully points out that the new decisive alliance is not intended as a menace, but rather as a guarantee of peace and prosperity in the far east, in which all countries may participate.

The main features of the new agreement have already been forecasted in despatches from London and Paris. The pithy articles of the official text, however, bring out forcibly the tremendous importance to both countries of this alliance, which practically makes Great Britain and Japan one for the purpose of defense "in the regions of East Asia and India."

RECEIVED WITH SATISFACTION.

New Anglo-Japanese Treaty Pleases the Japanese.

Tokio, Sept. 27.—The announcement of the terms of the new Anglo-Japanese treaty was received with general satisfaction throughout Japan. The extension of the treaty to include India within its scope is an unwelcome change in some quarters, but there is a general feeling that peace is assured for at least ten years by the new treaty.

European Opinion.

London, Sept. 27.—The opinion of Europe regarding the new Anglo-Japanese treaty, the terms of which were announced yesterday, seems to be that it is directed almost entirely against Russia, as no other power is likely to come within its scope because it is limited to the far East and India.

STATE'S EVIDENCE IN.

Outline of Defense in Williams Murder Case.

Burlington, Sept. 27.—The evidence secured by the state in the case against Benjamin Williams, who is charged with the murder of Policeman McGrath, was all before the jury yesterday noon, two and one-half days being occupied in the presentation of the case. As soon as the state's case was completed the defense was begun. Attorney Cushman briefly outlined the defense, saying that evidence would be introduced tending to show that Williams' mind was affected. He further said it would be shown that McGrath was not a legal officer and that if he did arrest Williams he had no legal authority for so doing. It is expected that it will take two days to complete the evidence for the defense.

SHOT HIS WIFE IN SALOON.

She Had Asked Him for Money — He Laughed When Arrested.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 27.—John Stetz, saloonkeeper and butcher, and one of the richest men in the tunnel district, is under arrest, charged with shooting his wife. Mrs. Stetz was found lying in the yard at her home with a bullet in her stomach. She told the police that she went to her husband's saloon last night and asked for some money. Stetz picked up a revolver and fired twice, one bullet striking her. She will die. Stetz laughed and joked about the shooting when placed under arrest.

Pape for Governor.

The suggestion has been made that if the Democrats would nominate Mr. Herbert Pape of Barre for governor next year the state would see a much closer vote than is usual in a contest for the executive. While we do not know that Mr. Pape is receptive, we do know that he has made an enviable reputation for himself as representative for two terms from his city, and is very popular with the farmers and workmen of the state for his conservative and conscientious attitude on public matters.—Vermont Union Signal.

WANTED—Bright young man, acquainted with the granite trade, to take charge of the business of a wholesale firm having an office at Barre. Address P. O. Box No. 325, Barre. 1652

BETHEL.

While Liverman Kempton, accompanied by his hostler, Mr. Wilcox, were out driving on River street Saturday evening, the horse became frightened at some object in the road and in turning out ran the wagon on some gravel piled up in the gutter, tipping the occupants out. Mr. Kempton escaped uninjured, while Mr. Wilcox suffered a fracture of the hip and injury to spine. Rev. Geo. F. Fortier of the Universalist church caught the animal.

During the hours of Saturday night Landlord Pratt of the Bethel Tavern, while trying to quiet some boisterous fellows about his premises, was assaulted by three of the disturbers, to his personal injury. Some furniture about the office was destroyed by the intruding parties. Officer Cushman was called and placed under arrest William Brooks. Tuesday morning Brooks was brought before Justice R. J. Flint and also John Wood of Barre by a warrant, charged with assault upon George Pratt. They were found guilty and each paid a fine and costs amounting to over $10. While Officer Cushman was placing Wood under arrest, Oscar Recor, took flight and never came back. The officers are still looking for him. Both Wood and Recor are working on the concrete walks in the village. Landlord Pratt was reimbursed by the first two for the damage done to his property.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Van McAllister went to Barre yesterday on business.

Miss Effie Whitney is again quite ill and under Dr. Tindall's care.

Herbert Martin has been quite ill the past week, but is improving.

Quite a good number from here went to the fair at Washington today.

Mrs. Seaver, who is ill with measles at the Gulf is doing as well as could be expected.

The electric light poles have been shipped here and are at the station, ready to be put up.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Farnham and Mrs. Harley T. Martin left yesterday on the excursion to New York.

Mrs. Mary McAllister wishes to thank all who so generously helped her in getting the votes for the Quaker range.

The ladies of the Universalist society will hold their annual vegetable and plant sale and hash supper Thursday, October 5.

STILL PAYING PREMIUMS.

But These Policyholders Are Not Insured.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Investigation of the affairs of the Western Life Indemnity company yesterday brought out the fact that claims of perhaps thousands of policyholders in assessment companies have been practically wiped out through manipulation. Twenty-eight small insurance companies have terminated their existence by merging into the Western Life Indemnity company. "That means," said the examiner, "that the policyholders of the original companies have gone through a process which leaves them practically uninsured, although they are still paying their premiums and have been doing so for years."

GOING TO THE ISTHMUS.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Darling Will Join Party.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Darling left Washington yesterday for Bennington, Vt. His present intention is to join the Panama canal commission at New York Thursday and make the trip with the party to the Isthmus.

DIE OF INJURIES.

Two More Victims of New York Fire-works Factory Explosion.

New York, Sept. 26.—Two employees of the Spurio fireworks factory in Brooklyn, which was blown up Monday, died yesterday. This makes three dead out of the five persons wounded in the small frame factory at the time of the explosion.

A Problem in Proportion.

"I notice here an account of a wedding feast in Illinois where the guests consumed five barrels of sauerkraut and 1,800 pounds of meat."

"And how much beer?"

"I suppose the beer is understood."

"But they should mention the quantity as long as they itemize the other luxuries."

"Oh, figure it out for yourself. If one barrel of sauerkraut equals 360 pounds of meat, and—one barrel of beer equals two quarts of kraut, and—two quarts of kraut equal sixteen degrees of thirst, and—say, I used to know how to do that kind of an example, but I've forgot now whether you add or multiply."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
